

With Deep Gratitude

The planning and development of the 100th Infantry Battalion's 50th Anniversary Celebration – and most likely a last hurrah – would not have been possible without the dedication and hard work of the men, women, sons and daughters of the 100th who spent countless hours over the last year. This commemorative publication would have only been a dream without the generous contributions, which ranged from $25 to $10,000. The following are recognized with deep gratitude for their thoughtfulness:

Our sincere apologies to those contributors who are not properly acknowledged in this publication.
We ask for your understanding.

We started out with no money, and only a few months to prepare this book. For example, in the first edition, we wanted to include an index; however, we did the best we could with the allotted time, space and funds. We hope you treasure the memories as we do.

With profound thanks,

Kenneth Otagaki, Chairman
50th Anniversary Committee
